

www.usatoday.com

USA TODAY

Travel

By Seth Browarnik, Red Eye Productions

“Entourage Bungalow”: The show’s Adrian Grenier, left, Perrey Reeves and Rex Lee test it out.

Travel

Bring your entourage to W for VIP package

This could be the ultimate guy getaway.

The new “Entourage Bungalow” at the just-opened W South Beach in Florida allows fans of the TV series to make like Vince, Ari, Turtle and other members of movie-star Vince’s posse. It’s a partnership with HBO, and the suite is due to be available until Sept. 27.

Dispatches

Here’s what you get for $5,000 a night (two-night minimum): digs pimped out with poster of the cast, roof deck and two bedrooms. One even has a video camera on a tripod (next stop, YouTube).

Wait, there’s more: a limo; golf foursome; your own cabana with drinks and food; VIP access and bottle service at the hotel’s WALL nightclub; private cruise; jet skiing; plus a reservation at the W’s basketball court and other perks worthy of a Hollywood star and his hangers-on. Adrian Grenier and other Entourage cast members inaugurated the bungalow last week.

—Kitty Bean Yancey