FROM KILLER SHOES TO CRYSTAL PALACES,
THIS FALL THERE'S NO SHORTAGE OF
WILD AND WONDROUS THINGS OUT THERE

MR CHOW

CHOW DOWN IN MIAMI

Barbara Streisand met husband number two there. Anjelica Huston and then-boyfriend Jack Nicholson were regulars, and it was the chosen hot spot of '80s art heroes like Andy Warhol and Jean-Michel Basquiat. Now, Mr. Chow is heading down south to Miami, where a seemingly endless stream of iconic faces and dishes is destined to continue. Legendary bon vivants Michael and Eva Chow have thrown open the doors of their latest outpost, which boasts a 123-foot Swarovski crystal and gold leaf chandelier (designed by Chow himself), and artwork borrowed from the couple's personal collection. Here's to many more dazzling nights and damn delicious food. Mr. V
